

Filofax Pocket 6-ring 1987-style Insert Re-creations

These insert recreations are not perfect, but they are pretty close. based on measuring photos or thumbnails of the originals.

They use a consistent style, based on that used in the 1987 Free-Form Management inserts.

They lack the Bodoni typeface used for the original titles.

The file names are my own, using the original insert reference numbers, with a descriptive based on the original title or function.

Pocket wasn't introduced until 1989, with a 4-ring mechanism. The 6-ring mechanism was introduced in 1994. These inserts are for the 6-ring mechanism, and are based on the Personal 1987 inserts, modified to match the line spacing of the released Pocket inserts, so many of them were never available in Pocket size. The copyright date in the spine is a notional 1989.

The following inserts are missing some text details or one side of the insert. If you can help provide the missing details, please let me know.

Printing

Individual inserts can be accessed using the Acrobat Bookmark, which will take you to the desired insert.

This is a composite size PDF document, so A4 pages should print to A4, and A3 pages to A3, but you should check that no scaling is being done.

single, double & treble leaves are imposed to A4 tumble on long edge

quad leaves are imposed to A3
tumble on short edge

Set 'no margins' in the Acrobat advanced print settings your printer will need to be able to print within 5mm of top & bottom edges
Check that no resize scaling is selected

†TIRING, DRINK UP
Champagne and Port have been restricted to generally 'declared' vintage years.
Certain White wines which do not improve with age have not been evaluated for as far back as 1945; hence the dash.

†TIRING, DRINK UP
Champagne and Port have been restricted to generally 'declared' vintage years.
Certain White wines which do not improve with age have not been evaluated for as far back as 1945; hence the dash.
